Plane readied for take off from Wilmington

Crew remodels jet aircraft for bicentennial celebration

The Independence bicentennial plane will be on display today and Saturday at the Overseas National Airways Maintenance Facility in Wilmington before flying on an extensive tour of the United States and nations abroad.

The patriotically painted DC-8 aircraft in bright red, white and blue was completely redecorated at the Wilmington base by approximately 100 employees, several of whom are from the Washington C.H. area.

The bicentennial project required two weeks for painting and an additional two months for a complete mechanical overhaul in Wilmington, where maintenance is conducted on 16 DC-10, DC-9 and DC-8 aircraft carriers for Overseas National Airways. Customer service for passenger and cargo handling is also done there.

The 180-passenger bicentennial aircraft was designed by Sharon

Duker, a flight attendant with ONA in New York and features "flag blue" wings and basic red and white striped body and tail.

A circle of 13 stars depicting the original 13 American colonies is illustrated on the tail, along with four large white stars on the blue nose of the plane and one additional white star on the front tip of the aircraft.

Inscribed in bold white lettering on the side of the plane are U.S.A., the bicentennial dates "1776-1976," and the christened name of the N1776R Independence.

The interior includes red, white and blue headrest covers and passenger services and is accented with appropriate plaques and a large color photograph of the aircraft exterior.

A sister ship to the Independence is now in the planning stages by Overseas National Airways, according to Wayne Manning of the Wilmington base.

Following the two-day maintenance check-up today and Saturday at the Wilmington airfield, the Independence will be dispatched to transport passengers throughout the United States as an encouragement for people to discover the U.S. under ONA's "Visit US" theme.

The plane will also be on display in several countries overseas and will be bringing visitors to America during the bicentennial celebrations.

The Wilmington maintenance facility is located at the former Clinton County Air Force Base, on the present Laurel Oaks Career Development Campus.

Senate approves homestead break

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Senate has approved 32-0 a bill that would increase the real estate tax homestead exemption to help elderly and disabled recipients keep pace with inflation.

The bipartisan spirit on the homestead bill Thursday was in marked contrast to bitter partisan battling among senators over a new equalization formula for state aid to public schools.

The equal yield bill passed late Wednesday night, but Minority Leader Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, vowed Thursday that the issue would ultimately be decided in a House-Senate conference committee — "not on the Senate vote."

The new homestead rates would raise the current allowable minimum annual income from $2,000 to $3,000 to qualify for a 70 per cent real estate tax break. The maximum income limit would increase from $6,000 to $10,000 to qualify for a 40 per cent exemption.

Sen. Donald J. Pease said the bill would help prevent retired homeowners and permanently, totally disabled recipients from suffering any inflationary decreases in the exemptions which have not been adjusted since 1971.

The bill would also permit veterans benefits to be excluded from calculation of total income and allow

Oily smell of money grips rural Alabama

CREOLA, Ala. (AP) — A "new breed of millionaires" may rise out of the hard-scrabble populace of North Mobile County thanks to one of the largest oil finds since the first shocks of the energy crisis.

"Two of the fields are the two largest discoveries in the U.S. over the past two years," says Alabama's state geologist, Dr. Phillip LaMoreaux. "You're going to have a lot of millionaires rise out of there ... a new breed of millionaires."

LaMoreaux says there are good signs that the oil fields of Union, Getty and wildcaters will produce the huge quantities of gas and condensate that their initial probes have indicated. Getty's Peter Klein well near Creola has been marked at producing 6.8 million cubic feet of gas per day, and it's two oilbearing formations, Smackover and Northlet, have brought in 2,166 and 1,416 barrels of condensate oil per day respectively.

The Klein well was discovered last September, and in January Union oil brought in a well on Mobile County school board property in Chunchula. LaMoreaux says the well is going to create "the richest school commission in the country."

The hopes of state officials and the backwoods landowners on the verge of huge good fortune, however, could dry up if future wells strike out. And in any event it is a patient process which may be a decade in becoming fully realized.

Mike Hillman, who leads a five-man crew at a Union well five miles east of Chunchula, stands before the screaming drill which is tunneling more than 18,000 feet into the earth. He's been there for a year and says it will be a few more months before the drill, hopefully, hits pay dirt.

Iola Smitherman picked crops and worked on a chicken farm to raise cash during the past three summers. But today she stands, 66 and barefoot, on a one-acre plot of land that could ease her earthly cares.

Her tiny farmhouse is on a stretch of piney woods land in southwest Alabama where the 10 oil wells already have signaled huge oil prospects.

Any riches are still a few years away — more drilling, tubing and the building of an oil refinery still are in the blueprint stage — and Mrs. Smitherman, a widow, won't be one of the millionaires.

With just one acre of land, she doesn't have the strike-it-rich symptoms of many in this farm and timber country. Some who have dug a modest living from the soil for decades are now on the threshold of six-figure profits.

Many Ohio prison strikers dismissed; more face action

By The Associated Press
Strikers at the Chillicothe Correctional Institution apparently returned to work today in the face of a temporary restraining order and a threatened dismissal by the state.

A spokesman for the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction in Columbus said that picket lines at Chillicothe disappeared during the night and "practically all" of the first-shift employees, including correction officers, were back on the job.

However, picket lines remained at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility in Lucasville and the Marion Correctional Institution in a protest over new state rules governing union representation, according to department spokesman Joseph Ashley.

Ashley said the state still is considering the dismissal of 16 of the Chillicothe strikers. The department sent letters of dismissal Thursday to 23 Lucasville workers and 20 Marion employees.

"It's subject to change, of course, but, at the moment, despite the apparent end of the strike at Chillicothe, we still plan to go ahead with the firings at that institution," Ashley said.

The state also has been using the courts in an effort to contain the strikes which began Monday at Lucasville and spread later to the other two prisons.

The Ross County sheriff Thursday night arrested six strikers, all of whom were later released on their own recognizance, Ashley said, adding that these arrests apparently contributed to the end of the strike. The arrests were made under a temporary restraining order obtained Thursday afternoon in Ross County Common Pleas Court.

Use of military bases opposed

Thai government recalls ambassador as protest

By The Associated Press

The Thai government announced today that it is recalling its ambassador from Washington in protest against the United States using Thai bases for the military operation that recovered the merchant ship Mayaguez from Cambodia.

The government said the United States had violated Thai sovereignty by disregarding Premier Kukrit Pramoj's request not to send 1,100 U.S. Marines to Thailand for use in the operation.

Thailand also said it would demand a review of all economic and military agreements between the United States and its last ally on the Southeast Asia mainland.

Kukrit, after a special cabinet meeting, told newsmen that Ambassador Anant Panyarachun would be asked before leaving Washington to submit a protest note to the U.S. government.

The note would explain that Thailand considers a violation of its sovereignty the keeping of U.S. Marines at a U.S.-run Thai air base for more than a full day after Kukrit formally requested that they be withdrawn, he said.

He said it would add that "we will not allow this kind of incident to occur again."

In Laos, three American aid officials remained under house arrest in the town of Savannakhet, but the U.S. Embassy said they were in no danger. The government sent a delegation to Savannakhet, 230 miles southeast of Vientiane, to negotiate for their release, and the Embassy denied reports that their lives had been threatened.

The campaign to purge rightists from positions of influence in the Laotian government and armed forces continued with a demonstration by about 200 pilots at Vientiane's Wattay air base. They demanded the dismissal of the air force chief, Gen. Buathong Phommivong.

The Thai government announced that the U.S. Embassy informed it the last of the 1,100 Marines left Utapao air base, on the south coast, late Thursday night.

About 300 of the Marines were reported to have taken part in the attack on Koh Tang island, off the Cambodian coast, despite Premier Kukrit's repeated demands that no forces from Thailand be used against the neighboring country. Reports from Washington said that some U.S. planes from Thai bases also took part.

Kukrit's brother Seni Pramoj, the leader of the opposition in parliament, suggested that the government protest the U.S. action to the United Nations.

Several other political leaders called for expulsion of all U.S. troops.

Students in Bangkok burned President Ford in effigy at a rally Thursday night. Today about 20 youths left signs saying "America, Take Your Troops Home" at the U.S. Embassy.

Freed ship heads to port

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the freighter Mayaguez today steamed toward a safe port, U.S. officials are claiming that its dramatic recovery by military force will signal China and North Korea that the United States is not a "paper tiger" in Asia.

The signal to North Korea is considered by U.S. officials to be of major importance because the fall of South Vietnam increased fears in South Korea that an attack from the north might be forthcoming.

U.S. officials have been searching for ways to discourage a North Korean attack; they see the ship rescue as serving that purpose.

Two Americans were killed, 14 are missing and an unknown number wounded, according to preliminary reports after nearly 200 Marines were lifted from the Thailand Gulf island of Tang following 14 hours of Communist gunfire described as "intermittent and heavy."

The Mayaguez and its 39 crewmen are to arrive in Singapore this weekend, skipping their scheduled stop in Thailand. Officials of R. J. Reynolds Industries, parent company of Sea-Land Services, Inc. which owns the Mayaguez, said the rescued crew members would be flown from Singapore to their homes in the United States.

After getting underway Thursday, the Mayaguez messaged its headquarters: "All crew healthy but had a rough time."

The company also said a sister ship of the Mayaguez, the Ponce, left Hong Kong on Wednesday and is following the same route that the Mayaguez took. The Ponce is expected to dock in Thailand Monday.

The use of U.S. bases in Thailand to stage the attack and rescue produced renewed protests from the Thais who have publicly been trying to move away from the United States since the Communist-led victories elsewhere in Southeast Asia.

But U.S. diplomatic sources professed little concern in private over the Thai protests. These U.S. sources said the Thai protests were entirely expected and largely designed to shore up Thailand's recent more neutralist image.

U.S. sources also viewed as entirely predictable the new hints from Bangkok that a speed-up of U.S. troop withdrawals from Thailand will be demanded. These sources indicated that the timetable of U.S. withdrawal is privately agreed on by Washington and Bangkok.

Meanwhile, a senior U.S. official said China had turned a deaf ear to U.S. requests that it intercede with Cambodia to gain the release of the Mayaguez that was captured Monday on its way to Thailand and Singapore from Hong Kong.

Huang Chen, chief of the Chinese mission here, reportedly returned, unsent, a U.S. message intended for the Peking Phnom Penh "hot line."

When the rescue operation was completed, the Chinese accused the United States publicly of "an act of piracy." This reaction was said to have been expected and was taken at the State Department with a grain of salt.

Privately, senior U.S. officials were hinting that China was not that displeased with the outcome. Peking is said to consider a continued U.S. presence in Asia a welcome counterbalance to the Soviet Union.

U.S. delays relations in Saigon

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials indicate they are in no hurry to respond to the new Saigon government's overture for diplomatic relations with Washington and that they are uncertain just what the United States is being asked to recognize.

Provisional Revolutionary Government leaders in Saigon disclosed Wednesday that they are willing to have diplomatic relations with all countries of the world, including the United States.

They said their conditions for relations with Washington are that the United States respect South Vietnamese sovereignty and that it live up to its responsibilities under the 1973 Paris accords. On this latter point, there was no elaboration.

Normally, the only American requirements for recognizing a new government are assurances that it is in full control of the country and that it will abide by its international obligations.

But officials suggested the Vietnamese case won't be quite that simple. Currently, the Saigon government is under what is known as a military management committee led by Col. Gen. Tran Van Tra. But it is uncertain how far his rule extends.

It is expected that South Vietnam eventually will come under the exclusive control of North Vietnam but officials here say they have no idea when that day will come. It also is

A WOMAN DRESSES TO KILL -- HER COMPETITION

Two Cleveland women splitting $300,000

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Two Cleveland women who shared a ticket took top honors from a small field of competitors Thursday, winning the Ohio lottery's weekly grand prize of $300,000.

"I'm very happy," Jennie Shnider said over and over, as the set for the televised drawing was flooded with delirious friends and relatives of the winners.

The woman who cosigned the winning ticket, Mariam Cohen, had said before the drawing that she would like to go to Hawaii.

An unimpressed Alfred DiFilippo of Lorain won second prize of $30,000. He said he already had everything pretty much the way he liked it.

Due to the limited number of entrants, the lottery offered no $60,000 prize. Three other persons won $15,000. The lottery commission identified them as Bert Lawson of Reynoldsburg, Ivan Helvoigt of Toledo and Paul Shuluga of Struthers.

The winning single number this week is 729 and the double number 541 394.

The first drawing of the new Lucky Buck game also was held Thursday. The $20 number is 107 and the six-digit number, which could be worth up to $100,000, is 319 460.

Lucky Bucks boosted ticket sales to a single-week record of $3.23 million last week, including $1.69 million in the new auxiliary program, a lottery official said.

James F. Dickerson, deputy executive director of the lottery, also said that sales of regular 50-cent tickets fell only 18 per cent instead of the 40 per cent the lottery's consultants had predicted.

"The people said they wanted more chances to win and that's what we gave them," Dickerson said of the $1 Lucky Buck tickets that offer up to 23 weekly chances to win and two others for a game-ending jackpot.

He predicted that if the sales pace continues through the 10-week Lucky Buck program, "the state should realize an additional $10 million" in gross revenue.

Regular sales fell to a total of 3,078,367 tickets for the week which ended Tuesday, the first in the Lucky Buck program, compared with 3,788,909 the preceding week, a lottery spokesman said.

"The consultant stays surprised by Ohio because we don't follow the pattern of other states," the spokesman added.

Several converging weather systems were to result in mostly sunny skies in western Ohio and most of northern Ohio today, with clouds lingering in the southeastern counties.

Most of the state was to enjoy rather pleasant weather with afternoon temperatures climbing to highs in the 60s.

Rain ended and fog settled over much of southeastern Ohio this morning, and skies were clearing over much of the western part of the state. Early morning temperatures were in the 40s in most sections, with readings at daybreak ranging from 46 at Dayton to 60 along the Ohio River across from Huntington, W. Va.

A predominant influence is a nearly stationary front running from Virginia to Louisiana, along which a low center will move northeast from near the Gulf Coast to North Carolina by Saturday morning. A high pressure system over Wisconsin will move east across the Great Lakes tonight.

Fair Sunday and Tuesday. A chance of showers Monday. Highs in the 70s. Lows in the 50s.

Women's activist group offers help to jobless bartender Bob

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Bob the bartender, claiming he's out of work because tavern owners are hiring only women, has been offered a hand by a women's activist group.

Bob, 26, who asked that his last name not be used, said Thursday that he is a graduate of the Professional Bartenders School in Boston and fully qualified for his profession. But every time he applies for a job he's told only women bartenders are being hired.

"I'm really starting to feel like a minority," Bob said. "There are a lot of clubs where you never see a male bartender. It's not because men aren't looking for the work. They just don't want men."

Donna Taylor, coordinator of the National Organization for Women employment discrimination task force in Jacksonville, got in touch with Bob after hearing about his problem.

"Whichever sex is discriminated against, the other is involved," said Miss Taylor. "You can't discriminate against one without the other being involved."

Women want to be hired because they are qualified, not because they are women, she added.

She sees several options open to Bob, the most promising a class action complaint before the Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

"We have filed three such suits from Jacksonville, but we've not been approached by a man before," Miss Taylor said.

NOW can file the action on Bob's behalf so that his identity can be protected, she said. His name would have to be revealed only if the commission takes the case to court to enforce a finding.

Miss Taylor said the case would be stronger if other men who feel they can't get work as bartenders because of sex discrimination would join in the complaint.

"The more people, the stronger the case," she said. Bob said he has talked to her and is pondering a decision.

Meanwhile, Bob recalled one of his first unsuccessful tries at getting a job. He answered an ad for a bartender and waited half an hour to see the manager.

Recalls Bob: "He said 'You're not a woman,' and I said 'I know.'" applicants who file late for their initial exemption to receive a one-year retroactive tax break.

The measure must still be approved by the House.

On the House side, Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, said hearings on the school equalization formula would begin in his committee in about 10 days.

It is there that Maloney hopes to delete a section of the plan that would eliminate property tax rollbacks after 1977. Some educators want to stop the rollbacks on the grounds that school funding could be adversely affected.

"The people of Ohio ought to know that, should this bill pass, as it is now, there will be no more opportunity for millage reductions in property values," Maloney said. "This policy can destroy what otherwise would be a decent equalization formula."

The current law provides for millage reductions under certain circumstances, when property valuations are reassessed at a higher level.

Republicans, school administrators and local board officials also oppose language in the bill, requiring at least two-thirds of the students and teachers to be in attendance for a school to be officially counted as open.

That could force schools to close during strikes even when the majority of teachers were present. Since the days would have to be made up later in the year, striking teachers would suffer no net loss in pay, the critics contend.

Teacher walkout brings 40 arrests tained they had violated the terms of a no-picketing order he handed down last week.

Those arrested were picked up at their homes and at a local motel which has been used as headquarters for the striking South Point Classroom Teachers Association. County residents were later released on their own recognizance pending a Friday hearing. The others had to put up $250 bonds each.

The arrests culminated events that began early Thursday when some 30 pickets gathered at South Point High School and turned back students and substitute teachers.

Two pickets were slightly injured when they were struck by an automobile apparently driven by the superintendent of the South Point school district. They were treated and released at a nearby hospital.

Leslie York and Eugene Smith—among the 114 teachers fired last week by the school board—said they were bumped by an auto driven by School Supt. Lawrence Derfield. They said he drove through the picket line without stopping.

Lawrence County Sheriff James Howell said Derfield told him he thought he "might have bumped two pickets" but did not stop to look. No charges were filed.

Derfield fired all the teachers in the district last week after they refused to come back to class without additional pay benefits, including a $900 cost-of-living increase.

The strike began two weeks ago after negotiations broke down. Classes were closed for several days and the school board obtained a court injunction which forbade picketing.

A spokesman for Thursday's pickets said they took the position that the injunction did not apply to them as they were no longer teachers. There were no reports of arrests at the school.

Only a handful of the district's 2,600 students were in class Thursday, the sheriff said.

Classes are being conducted by substitute teachers, school supervisors and 14 teachers who were rehired. The teachers association maintains that the classes are little more than babysitting exercises.

Claim minister bribe recipient

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — A Honduran investigative commission says that former Economy Minister Abraham Bannaton Ramos got the $1.2 million bribe United Brands paid to get the banana export tax lowered.

Bannaton Ramos denied receiving any money. He suggested it might have been paid to someone else using his name.

Following the disclosure last month that the American exporters of Chiquita Banana paid the bribe to a high-ranking Honduran official, the Wall Street Journal reported that the money went to President Oswaldo

Lopez Arellano. But the chairman of the investigative commission said it was unable to determine if any of the money was passed on to Lopez because he would not let it check his Swiss bank account.

The commission chairman, Jorge Arturo Reina, the rector of the National University, recommended in a broadcast that the new regime headed by Col. Juan Melgar Castro take the case to the courts "to bring back the honor of the country."

Reina claimed that United Brands executive John Taylor paid the money to Bannaton Ramos in Zurich, Switzerland, on Sept. 3-4, 1974.

Bannaton Ramos responded: "There could have been a bank transfer but I did not get the money. One can make bank money transfers in the name of any person."

Reina said prior to the alleged payoff to Bannaton Ramos, Eli M. Black, chairman of United Brands until his suicide this year, came to Tegucigalpa last July to offer the president "several hundreds of thousands" to "fix the banana problem." But he said the commission had information that Lopez rejected the offer.

Bannaton Ramos said he would defend himself against the charge. He said the commission based its report on "verbal statements" from United Brands officials and "placed no value" on testimony by Bannaton Ramos and other Honduran officials.

Stock list goes down

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit taking chipped away steadily at stock prices today in a relatively quiet session on Wall Street.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 9.63 at 839.17 on top of a 9.93 drop Thursday. Losers held a 2-1 edge on gainers at the New York Stock Exchange.

The market showed little favorable response to the Federal Reserve's reduction of its discount rate from 6 1/4 to 6 per cent after Thursday's close. It appeared the news already had been taken into account in the market's gains of the past several weeks.

Seaboard Coast Line Industries, the most active issue on the Big Board, slipped 3/4 to 22 1/2 after a 4 1/2 drop Thursday, when the company reduced its quarterly dividend from 55 to 35 cents a share.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .20 at 87.29.

Saigon talks

unclear how long the military management committee will hold power or if any plans are being made for transition to a new style of government.

These factors enter into American thinking as the recognition question is being weighed here.

It is a puzzle to some U.S. officials that the rebel group known as the Viet Cong which the United States tried to destroy over a 20-year period extended an olive branch to Washington just 16 days after achieving victory.

In contrast, Cuba is still seething over the Bay of Pigs invasion 14 years after it occurred and only now shows interest in normalizing relations with Washington. China and the United States had virtually no contact for 23 years before moving toward detente.

In a related development Thursday the new Saigon government announced it has sent a note to the United States declaring that Algeria has been designated to handle South Vietnamese interests and assets in Washington.

State Department officials acknowledged receipt of the note and declined comment beyond saying that it was under study.

The last ambassador of the ousted Saigon regime, Tran Kim Phung, still works at the chancery and told a reporter he hopes to close it down in good order as soon as possible. He gave no deadline for completing the task.

Explosion rocks Tel Aviv suburb

TEL AVIV (AP) — A tremendous explosion rocked a "military industry area" in a suburb of Tel Aviv today, police said.

Police did not know immediately what caused the blast, about 15 miles from Tel Aviv. There was no report of casualties.

Witnesses said windows were blown out a mile from the explosion, which they said sent up "a mushroom-shaped cloud."

The shock wave was felt in The Associated Press office in Tel Aviv.

Oatmeal recalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug administration today announced the recall of about 95,000 packages of Kroger Instant oatmeal in eastern United States stores. The agency said some of the oatmeal may contain metal fragments.

The cereal, containing artificial maple and brown sugar flavor, was manufactured by Ralston Purina Co., Davenport, Iowa. The firm mailed recall letters April 29 to distributors.

The recalled cereal carries the code numbers 1-3-76 on cartons and cases.

Ohio jobless claims drop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Continuing claims for unemployment compensation from the state dropped for the third consecutive week with a prediction by the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services of another decrease when the week of May 10's figures are compiled.

The bureau said 235,435 persons received benefits from the state for one week or more as of May 3, a decrease from the 244,076 the week before. It estimates that 230,000 unemployed will have received compensation for the week of May 10.

Initial claims also fell to 21,060 at the end of the week of May 10, more than twice the average number of applications in May 1974. The May 10 figure compares to 24,532 applications the week before.

In the eight largest counties in Ohio, new claims were down the week of May 10 to 9,846 as compared to 10,428 the week before and an average 4,531 a year ago. In the other 80 counties, claims were down by almost 3,000 to 11,214 as of May 10.

Woman Viet 'Pied Piper' safe

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Madame Vu Thi Ngai, who collected war orphans like a Pied Piper for 30 years, bought poison with which to kill herself should she fall into Communist hands.
"I did not anticipate the Viet Cong would kill me outright," said Mme. Ngai. Her name was on a VC death list for allowing hundreds of Vietnamese children to be flown to America.
"There are many different ways of torture," said the 71-year-old woman known throughout Southeast Asia as "the Mother of One Thousand Children."
Mme. Ngai fled Saigon in early May along with other refugees coming to the United States. She said in an interview at her newfound home in Georgia:

"They (Communists) give you paper and pencil. You must write what they tell you — biography, 'confessions.' I'm very tired. I do not have the temperament for this."
"I bought poison, to be ready, if the Americans did not get me out. I would rather die than be in their hands."
A petite woman, she still is strikingly beautiful. She says of the traumatic change which brought her to America: "I begin now my second life."
It is also the second time she has fled communism. The first was in 1954, when her doctor husband and other members of her family were killed by the North Vietnamese.

But long before that, Mme. Ngai, as a wealthy North Vietnamese, was taking pot-bellied, starving children into her mansion in the Tonkin Bay area.
"As a young woman, my interest was sports, all the time," said Mme. Ngai. She was the women's tennis champion of her country, an expert fencer and swimmer.
But the French-Indochina war which broke out in 1945 was to change all that, she said.
"Two million died from hunger. There was nothing to eat. It is hard to understand the poverty and hunger," she said slowly.
As the suffering increased, she and her neighbors began taking in abandoned children. In 1954, the Communist Viet Minh ravaged her town, destroyed her beautiful home, arrested her husband, mother, brother and two sisters.
"All died in prison," she said. "My mother from starvation, because she was too old to work and earn her food. My 15-year-old son disappeared one day. I looked and looked for him."
Then, gathering up the waifs, her jewelry and a few blocks of gold leaf, she fled south with hordes of refugees, picking up more abandoned children along the way.
By the time she reached Haiphong, she had used most of her jewelry and gold to keep her growing group of children alive. In Haiphong, she named her orphanage An Lac. Happy Place.

Previn heads symphony

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Conductor Andre Previn has been named music director of the Pittsburgh Symphony. He signed a three-year contract that begins with the 1976-77 season.
Previn, 46, has been principal conductor of the London Sympony since 1968 and will retain that post. He will divide his time between the two cities, the Pittsburgh Symphony Society said Wednesday.
He succeeds William Steinberg, who is stepping down at the end of the year after holding the Pittsburgh conductorship since 1952.

Previn has made guest appearances with the Pittsburgh Symphony since 1966 and has been well received by local critics.
Born in Berlin, he came to the United States in 1938 and became an American citizen five years later.
Previn, who was known in his early years for a number of Hollywood film scores, is married to actress Mia Farrow. They live in Surrey, outside London, with their five children.

Auto sales again poor

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. automakers report car sales in early May fell 21 percent from a year ago to the lowest level for the period in 17 years.
The four major U.S. firms reported Wednesday that sales for the May 1-10 period declined from the same period a year ago. Two of them said sales also were off from early April.
Sales of imports, which captured a record 21 percent of the U.S. car market in the first four months of the year, are reported only at the end of each month.
"We're no longer looking for a rebound," conceded one company analyst who had predicted a spring upturn first for April, and later for May.
"There has been a grinding, almost grudging increase in sales over the past months, and the May figures are a normal continuation of that pattern in this slow year," he added. "But monthly sales will not run ahead of last year until sometime this fall."

Opinion And Comment

Assassination intolerable

Political assassination is not a tolerable instrument of policy in a democratic society. Above all it is not a tolerable instrument of United States government policy. Congress should get to the bottom of allegations that the Central Intelligence Agency has been involved in such activities.

It has been asserted, in the first instance by CBS Reporter Daniel Schorr, that President Ford is concerned lest current investigations reveal that the CIA played a part in the murder of at least three foreign leaders. Most recently, a retired Air Force colonel who once worked in the Pentagon's Office of Special Operations has made the specific charge that the CIA had a hand in an attempt on the life of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro in "late 1959 or early 1960."

The retired officer, L. Fletcher Prouty, is the author of a book about his experiences as Air Force liaison with the CIA. He claims to know of "one or two" other assassination attempts against Castro. His charges cannot be taken as gospel, but they should be thoroughly looked into.

It is of interest that Prouty came forward after a former CIA director, Richard Helms, verbally abused Schorr — calling him "Killer Schorr" — and accusing him of lying in his broadcasts. At the time of the alleged Castro assassination attempt Helms was assistant to the head of the CIA's so-called "dirty tricks" department, which he later headed before becoming director in 1966.

Upon emerging from a long appearance before the Rockefeller Commission investigating the agency, Helms told reporters: "As far as I know, the CIA was never responsible for the assassination of any foreign leader." This was not responsive to the question whether the CIA played any role in attempted political murders. This — and not merely whether any such attempts succeeded — is the key question which Congress ought to explore.

WASHINGTON CALLING... By Marquis Childs

Overextended power

WASHINGTON — That tired cliché about dominoes falling will be overworked in the aftermath of the fall of Saigon. The restive discontents long evident in Southeast Asia will now be interpreted as the consequence of American failure in South Vietnam.

The shock of the suddenness of the fall will certainly be felt. But the truth is that American power has long been overextended, not only in Asia but around the world. If once the shock is past, this farflung power can be pulled back within reasonable limits, the American posture can conceivably be strengthened rather than weakened.

Thailand is a conspicuous candidate for the domino role. The government in Bangkok recently issued a formal statement that all foreign forces should be out of the country within a year, "conditions permitting." This clause is interpreted as giving Washington latitude for bargaining in the course of reducing the overgrown American complement in bases operated by American personnel.

During the Vietnam war the American presence in Thailand grew like a banyan tree putting down its branches all over the place. At one point in the '60s there were 50,000 Americans operating the bases from which the bombing of Vietnam was carried out. This was pulled down during 1974 to 27,000. In Pentagonese the current agreement allows 27,000 "spaces," which means live bodies.

The present number is about 25,000. Surely this can be reduced now that all Americans are out of Vietnam. Given the signs of disquiet in the Thai government, spurred by student uprisings, a substantial reduction should have begun long since.

It is good news that Charles S. Whitehouse, an able career foreign service officer with a long seasoning in Asia, is going as ambassador to Bangkok. His last post was Laos where he observed the formation of a compromise government combining the communist Pathet Lao and the conservative Souvanna Phouma. As he left Vientiane, Whitehouse, in a public address, pointed to the Laotian solution as a way out of continual conflict.

Whitehouse is replacing William R. Kintner, a Nixon appointee and an ideological hardliner, a protégé of Robert Strauss and his cold war foreign policy institute at the University of Pennsylvania.

Kintner could hardly have been a more unfortunate choice given the shifting uncertainty of forces in Thailand.

Whitehouse will have his work cut out for him, particularly in light of the influx of Vietnamese refugees using planes out of the Vietnamese air force initially supplied by the United States. In northern Thailand perhaps 8,000 Communist guerrillas are the source of sporadic incidents that give government forces trouble.

Something like the same restiveness over the American presence is evidenced in the Philippines, although there President Ferdinand Marcos' rule by martial law has put a damper on any overt protest.

Clark Air Force base has 12,000 military and civilian personnel, Subic Bay Naval base 5,000, with perhaps another 1,000 in the U.S. mission and various subsidiaries. Prior to martial law, protests boiled up in the university and the media.

In the past two weeks, responsible government sources have suggested the need for surveying the utility of the American facilities. But these same sources have also suggested the importance of maintaining American strength in possibly a somewhat reduced form.

On the other side of the world, Greece is an example of the swollen American presence. When both Pentagon and State Department embraced the dictatorship of the colonels, the American military proliferated. Destroyers of the Sixth Fleet were home-ported at a base near Athens, stirring resentment in the overcrowded city.

Against the background of Greek anger over Cyprus, the United States, in negotiations between the two countries, has agreed to give up that base and another with the prospect of still further "elimination, reduction and conservation" of United States facilities.

This may be precipitous in light of the obligations of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. But surely an orderly withdrawal from outposts of power that no longer serve a realistic purpose is not only possible but desirable. The defeatists who cry havoc and all is over as the dominoes fall can only make the bad worse.

Ohio Perspective

Rivalry splits PUCO

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The political split within the three-member Public Utilities Commission is becoming apparent at a time when soaring utility rates are causing the agency monumental problems.

Republican Chairman Luther Heckman and David C. Sweet, an 11th-hour appointee of former Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan, bring their quarrels regularly into legislative committee rooms where lawmakers are considering various measures bill as problem-solving alternatives.

Sweet, who headed the Department of Economic and Community Development under Gilligan until after GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes won last year's election, and Sally Bloomfield, another Gilligan appointee, are running right now what some have called the last bastion of Democratic rule in the state government's executive branch.

Heckman, 32, who served several years as counsel to the Republican minority in the Ohio House before being named by Rhodes in March as PUCO chairman, has been powerless to stop Sweet's obvious control over the commission. Members are named to specific terms and are not subject to political dismissal.

Sweet gets support from Democrats who control both houses of the legislature. Recently he won controlling board approval of a research contract he wanted with Ohio State University — over Heckman's objection. Sweet and Heckman gave sharply divergent testimony over whether the contract was needed.

Heckman also may lose another battle involving a Democratic measure that would extend civil service protection to 45 Gilligan administration employees transferred to the PUCO after Gilligan lost the election. That bill passed the House and now is headed for the Senate.

A newsman asked the beleaguered chairman if he and Sweet traveled in the same state car for their debates in the legislature to save taxpayers' money.

"I don't know how he gets there," said Heckman. "I ride the bus."

Sen. Donald L. Woodland, D-16 Columbus, had a little trouble with arithmetic at a meeting of the Senate Commerce and Labor Department that he heads.

The 44-year-old senator asked a witness, "Let's see, if 35 employees were transferred in January and 10 others last November, that makes 35?"

"No," said the witness. "that makes 45."

"You'll have to excuse me," said Woodland. "I majored in physical education."

The Department of Transportation is using envelopes with the names of old Democratic administrators crossed out in green ink, and the names of the Republican administrators printed in.

A glance at the envelope also shows another portion marked out in green ink which reads, "The future belongs to those who prepare for it."

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Husband ignores suicide threat to 'punish' wife

DEAR ABBY: My wife attempted suicide (with pills) twice. Both times she came running to me to tell me what she had done, so I rushed her to the hospital to have her stomach pumped.

She pulled that stunt again, and I refused to take her to the hospital because I wanted to teach her a lesson. She was very sick on the third try, but she was able to telephone her sister who rushed over and took her to the hospital. Of course, like the first two times, she survived.

Now my wife is barely speaking to me. She accuses me of wanting her dead, that's not true, Abby. If I had wanted her dead, I wouldn't have rushed her to the hospital the first two times. On the third try, I felt that I had to teach her a lesson. Was I wrong?

NAMELESS
DEAR NAMELESS: Yes. An attempted suicide is a desperate cry for help. I hope your wife is getting professional help to investigate the underlying reasons for her suicidal behavior. She may make yet another attempt and succeed, just to teach YOU a lesson.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have a problem. We both graduated from high school in 1965. Her school is in the city in which we are presently living and mine is in a town 250 miles from here.

By coincidence both high schools are having their 10th reunion on the same evening!

My wife says that she will not miss her class reunion no matter what, and I feel the same way about mine.

We have had all sorts of advice on how to settle it, but we want to know how you'd solve it.

BILL IN ATLANTA
DEAR BILL: Simple. I'd go to my class reunion, and let my husband go to his.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my husband's snoring. I am a very light sleeper, and he snores so loud that I can't sleep.

I have tried waking him up and asking him to turn over on his side, but that doesn't work. As soon as he's asleep, he rolls over on his back and starts snoring again.

I don't want to start taking pills to make me sleep, and I don't want to have to go into my little boy's room as I have done on several occasions.

My husband was in a hospital two months ago, and he was in a ward because that's all we could afford. Well, he snored so bad they had to move him into a private room at no extra cost to us because he was keeping everybody in the ward awake.

Can you help me?

LIGHT SLEEPER
DEAR LIGHT: Your husband should see an ear, nose and throat doctor. Some snorers can be cured with minor surgery. If he can't try ear plugs for yourself.

CONFIDENTIAL TO S.J.L.: Make a mental note of it. You can tell a great deal about a person by observing how he treats someone who can't do him any good.

AP Religion Writer

It estimates there now are about 7,000 married priests in the country. As the group began efforts to gain recognition of their qualifications for restoration to priestly service, about 300 of 900 contacted so far have

Ohio takes advantage of federal funding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State of Ohio has taken advantage of $1.8 million in funds originally impounded by the Federal Highway Administration.

The Federal Highway Administration said this week that slightly more than $1 billion in previously impounded highway funds have now been obligated by the states.

TERESA WILLIAMS

BILL ROE

Two praised for D.E. work

Two students in the Miami Trace Distributive Education class are being recognized for their work.

Teresa Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Williams, Creek Road, works at Hidy's Foods under the supervision of Ed Plum. She has been employed at Hidy's for the past year as a cashier.

Plum is extremely pleased with her work at the store, and has relayed this information to the school in monthly reports on her progress. "She is a conscientious worker, and a pleasant person to be around," he said. He added that he was happy the school had chosen to recognize her efforts.

Besides her participation in distributive education, Miss Williams is enrolled in government, sociology and art. Her hobbies include horseback riding, hiking, and swimming.

Bill Roe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Roe, Snowhill Road, is employed at Carter Lumber Co., where he works for his father. When he is not working, Roe enjoys camping and motorcycle riding.

He is taking courses in American literature and art in addition to distributive education.

Alleged glue-sniffer bound over

A Buena Vista man was bound over to the Fayette County grand jury Wednesday in Washington C. H. Municipal Court after he waived preliminary hearing on a charge of using a harmful intoxicant.

Randolph D. Moore, 18, was arrested and charged with the use of harmful intoxicants, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest May 14 by Fayette County Sheriff's Sgt. William Crooks after an investigation into a paint-sniffing incident.

He appeared before Municipal Court Judge Reed M. Winegardner Thursday and pleaded guilty to the resisting arrest and disorderly conduct charges. Judge Winegardner fined him $200 on each charge and sentenced him to a total of 20 days in jail. A four-month jail sentence suspended on a previous case was reimposed Thursday.

Moore is presently held in the Fayette County jail under $1,000 bond. In other nontraffic cases aired Thursday, a charge of unlawfully permitting filthy or objectionable matter on village premises filed against L. J. Dill and the Dill Grain Co., Inc. of Columbus by Ron Anderson, mayor of Milledgeville, was dismissed.

Judge Winegardner dismissed the charge upon the oral request by the prosecuting witness, following an over six-month court battle in the case involving an abandoned elevator site within the village of Milledgeville corporation limits.

Norman Kimball, 35, of 429 E. Market St., was fined $200 and sentenced to 10 days in jail on a charge of assault, filed on a private warrant. Judge Winegardner suspended the jail term pending one year of good behavior.

Walter D. Aills Jr., 23, of Washington C. H., was fined a total of $200 on two charges of disorderly conduct, after he pleaded guilty to both complaints.

Reds lose two more to Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ollie Brown and Tug McGraw are opposite types, but they both thrive on pressure. Each showed why Thursday night as they led the emotionally sky-high Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-3, 5-3 doubleheader victory over Cincinnati and a sweep of a four-game series from the powerful Reds.

The soft-spoken Brown is one of the least-noticed Phillies, but he made his presence loudly known when he jolted a long three-run pinch-hit homer in the bottom of the ninth to win the first game.

McGraw, an extrovert, pitched two innings of scoreless relief in each game, picking up his second win in the opener and a save in the nightcap and running his season record to no runs allowed in 13 2-3 innings.

"I don't get to play much, but I try to keep myself ready when they need me," explained Brown after his homer broke a 3-3 tie and capped a four-run rally.

Last Sunday, after the Phils had dropped three straight to the Atlanta Braves, Ozark held a closed-door meeting with his players and reportedly berated them for their lackadaisical play.

But the Phils, rejuvenated with the addition of slugger Dick Allen to the lineup, have played fine baseball of late.

"Everything is kind of falling into place," smiled Ozark. "We're playing emotional baseball, being aggressive, making things happen and it's paying off."

Brown's shot over the 371-foot sign in left field spoiled a fine performance by Red's pitcher Don Gullett, 4-2, who gave up five hits and struck out 10. Gullett pitched out of a basesloaded jam in the first inning by getting Allen to ground into a double play, and gave up three hits and two runs in the fourth, but then completely stymied the Phils until the ninth.

The Reds, meanwhile, built a 3-2 lead on Cesar Geronimo's two-run homer and Joe Morgan's solo shot.

When Brown came up in the ninth, one run was already in as Bob Boone bounced into a double play with the bases loaded and Mike Anderson was intentionally passed.

"Gullett's best pitch is his fast ball. That's what I was looking for and that's what I got," explained Brown quietly.

In the second game, the Reds fell behind 1-0, but put three hits together in the fifth for a 2-1 lead.

Gullett said he was throwing "the best I've thrown in a long time. My fastball was getting better."

"If you're gonna get beat you go with your best stuff. I used it," said the Reds' left-hander. "I hate to lose as much as anybody, but I'm glad I threw the ball well."

Greg Luzinski led off the Phils' sixth with his eighth homer of the year to tie the score and the Phils went ahead moments later on Tommy Hutton's single and a double by slump-ridden Mike Schmidt.

The Reds tied it in the top of the seventh, but Cincinnati shortstop Dave Concepcion threw away Dave Cash's grounder in the bottom of the inning for the fifth Reds' error of the twinbill.

Cash moved to third on Larry Bowa's fourth hit, and scored when he beat a throw to the plate on Garry Maddox's roller. The Phils added an insurance run in the eighth.

But the way McGraw was pitching, the last run wasn't needed. He permitted only one hit and two walks in the four innings he pitched—the last two in each game.

Sophomore set for 440,100

Warnock sprints for state

Bill Warnock, he's only a sophomore and he's running in the district meet Friday at Upper Arlington.

What are his chances of qualifying for the state meet? "We don't know exactly what or how many teams are coming to the meet (class AAA district) and I have no way of finding out who he's running against," said Panther track coach Fred Zechman. "I asked if they (Ohio Athletic Association) could give me a list of names and they said you'll know who's there when you get there."

One thing for sure, no matter who occupies the lanes in the 100-yard dash and the quarter mile with Warnock, they will have to keep up with the sophomore's sprinters strong finishes and late season heroics.

Warnock won the sectional's quarter mile with a time of :51.5 to break the Miami Trace school record which he set earlier in the year.

It's just been recently that the Panthers leading point winner in meets this year has gotten down to the record breaking times.

He ran the quarter mile in over 53-seconds through much of the season until the South Central Ohio League meet when he burned off a :52.7 in the 440.

The league meet performance was good enough for a first place finish and a school record.

His performance in the sectional was rather surprising not only did he finish first, but he knocked 1.2 seconds of his own record.

If he keeps improving like that, a sub-50-second, quarter mile could be within his reach.

Warnock will also be running in the 100-yard dash with his season best time of :10.3 being good enough for a third place finish in the sectional, but the 440 is his strong race.

He is the only Miami Trace trackman going to the district and its the first for him.

If the sophomore doesn't qualify for the state meet next Saturday in Columbus, look on the bright side. There's always next year . . . and the next year.

Brewers finally top Rangers

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

It took the Milwaukee Brewers 22 minutes Thursday night to accomplish what they couldn't do in 3 hours and 50 minutes the previous night—beat the Texas Rangers.

After battling 14 innings and nearly four hours to a 2-2 standoff Wednesday night and one-hour into Thursday morning before an American League curfew forced a suspension of play—the Brewers and Rangers returned to pick up where they left off. It took just one more inning for Milwaukee to emerge with a 3-2 triumph when Texas reliever Jackie Brown walked two batters, committed a twoout error to load the bases and then hit Don Money with a two-strike pitch, forcing in the winning run.

Royals 3, Red Sox 0

The Royals scored an unearned run in the sixth off Boston ace Luis Tiant, 3-5. With two out, Hal McRae was hit by a pitch after his foul pop dropped between Boston catcher Bob Montgomery and first baseman Carl Yastrzemski in a mix-up.

McRae attempted to steal second and appeared out by 20 feet on Montgomery's throw. However, shortstop

Rick Burleson dropped the ball while applying the tag and was charged with an error. After John Mayberry walked, Harmon Killebrew blooped a single to shallow right-center, scoring McRae.

Twins 7, Indians 6

Reliever Jim Perry walked Steve Braun to start the ninth and pinch runner Dan Ford was sacrificed to second. After an intentional walk to Danny Walton, Dave LaRoche came on and fanned Tony Oliva but Carew then laced his game-winning hit to center field.

Mike Reid retires from Cincy Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — "Music can wait, football can't." The words were Mike Reid's in 1970 as he prepared to launch a National Football League career.

Having had his fill of football in five seasons, the 26-year-old Cincinnati Bengals All-Pro defensive tackle announced his retirement Wednesday.

"You could compare it to a man changing jobs. Like a teacher who decided to sell insurance. I'm well aware that the financial change will be drastic, but I'm willing to pay that consequence."

"I can't see myself starving to death," said Reid.

The 6-foot-3, 250-pound Penn State All-American told the Bengals, who made him a No. 1 draft choice, that he plans to form a musical group and eventually pursue a business career.

"My interest in music has grown in intensity over the past few years. The most important thing to me is music. I want to accomplish something in music," said Reid, who is an accomplished concert pianist and composer.

The bombshell drew surprised response from the Bengals.

"You just don't replace a Mike

Reid," said quarterback Ken Anderson, the NFL's passing leader last season when the Bengals, hard-bitten by injury, slumped to 7-7.

"He's the quickest tackle I've ever seen," he added.

Bob Trumphy, another teammate, called Reid "a super athlete." He said Reid "couldn't get his mind right to play." Trumphy described Reid as "a free spirit who hated the regimentation of football. He abhorred training camp."

Ron Carpenter, the other starting defensive tackle who was sometimes lost in Reid's shadow, agreed with Trumphy that the announcement did not come as a complete surprise to many players.

"He's been saying it every year since he's been here. I roomed with him at the All-Star game in 1970 and he said then he was only going to play a year, then quit," said Carpenter.

Reid's loss leaves only Carpenter and rookie Bill Kollar as defensive tackles, raising speculation of a trade.

Coach Paul Brown said Reid's loss "will certainly hurt," but he added Kollar was made a No. 1 draft choice last year "for this eventuality."

COUNTY SPRING SPORT STARS — Five Fayette County Athletes were honored at the South Central Ohio League Spring Banquet Thursday night at Hillsboro High School. From left to right: Alan Conner, Miami Trace baseball, all-league leftfielder; Bill Warnock, Miami Trace track, league quarter-mile champions, Randy Sparkman, Washington, baseball, all-league third baseman; Ron Warnock, Miami Trace track, league discus champion; and Greg Marti, Washington track, league pole vault champion.

SCOL honors five county athletes

HILLSBORO — Three Miami Trace athletes and two Washington Senior High School spring sports stars gained all-South Central Ohio League honors Thursday in their respective sports.

The banquet, held at Hillsboro High School, honored the top baseball players and trackmen from the seven member schools.

The all-league baseball team was selected by the conference coaches in a meeting last week. Trace's Alan Conner and Washington's Randy Sparkman were included on the 12-man all-star roster.

Conner, a junior, played most of the time in leftfield for Trace along with a limited number of appearances on the mound. He finished up the season with a .343 average. Senior Tom Riley and infielder Gary English received honorable mention honors from the league coaches.

Randy Sparkman, a junior, held down the hot corner for Rodger Mickle's Blue Lion nine this season. The sure-fielding third baseman had the second highest batting average of league players this season with a .411 average.

Second baseman Mark Fisher and leftfielder David Thompson of Washington gained honorable mention honors in the league.

Rounding out the rest of the all-SCOL squad are Jeff Throckmorton, Roger Rutherford and Jeff Allen of the league-leading Unioto Shermans.

Throckmorton was the top pitcher this year as the senior went 10-0 on the mound. Allen and Rutherford hit .385 and .372 respectively for Unioto with the husky Allen nailing down the rightfield position and Rutherford selected as one of two utility players.

Wilmington, Circleville and Greenfield placed two players apiece on the team.

Rick Newell (.310) at second base and Brian Williams (.343) the other utility player gained honors from Wilmington.

First baseman Phil Roll (.409) and catcher Randy Thomas (.469) were selected from Circleville while Joe Stewart (.365) at shortstop and Steve Willet, a tall righthander with a 3-2 league record, took honors from Greenfield McClain.

Rick Burns, a .353 hitter at centerfield this year, was the lone Hillsboro selection.

Three Fayette County tracksters also received awards for their first place finishes in this year's league meet. Washington's Greg Marti received recognition for his performance in the pole vault while Ron and Bill Warnock from Miami Trace took honors in the discus and quarter-mile run respectively.

Circleville coach James Lint accepted the track trophy for the meet champion Tigers with much of the credit going to Frank Plescia. The swift Tiger cinderman took four first place finishes in the meet by winning the high jump, long jump, the high hurdles and the low hurdles.

The league also presented the Scholar-Athlete award at the banquet with Noel Van Pelt, Wilmington football star, accepting the coveted award.

SCOL Secretary Donald Morris made several announcements concerning next year's league sport's schedule. Madison Plains High School will be rejoining the league increasing the number of schools to eight and the basketball preview will be held November 21 at Greenfield McClain. Also, plans to include girls sports in league banquets will be undertaken.

Foolish Pleasure Preakness favorite

BALTIMORE (AP) — John L. Greer's Foolish Pleasure carries the role of heavy favorite—and two tiny omens of bad luck—into Saturday's centennial running of the Preakness Stakes.

The bay son of What A Pleasure is the 6-5 choice to add the Preakness to his Kentucky Derby victory as he goes in search of the second Triple Crown sweep in three years.

But the Preakness will be the 13th race of Foolish Pleasure's career and the 13th anniversary of trainer LeRoy Jolley's trip to Pimlico with another favorite, Ridan, who wound up second in the 1962 Preakness.

The favorite's role against a field of nine challengers puts no special pressure on Jolley. "I'd rather have the favorite than any of the others," he said.

"But the pressure's there. That's why guys in this business have more ulcer scars than anybody else," Jolley added. "Chances like this just don't come along every day."

Winner of 11 of his 12 races, Foolish Pleasure needs victories in both the Preakness and the June 7 Belmont Stakes to match Secretariat's Triple Crown sweep of 1973, the first in 25 years.

Challenging Foolish Pleasure on Saturday will be six horses who trailed him to the wire in the Derby, two others who have yet to be beaten this season and Just The Time, winner of his only start this year on a disqualification.

Both Cynthia Phipps' Singh and William A. Levin's Native Guest are undefeated in four starts each this season, Singh scoring three stakes victories and Native Guest two.

Coming to the Preakness from the Kentucky Derby field are Avatar, who was second in the Run for the Roses; Diabolo, who was third; Master Derby, fourth; Media, fifth; Prince Thou Art, sixth, and Bold Chapeau, eighth.

All 10 will carry 126 pounds over the 1 3-16 miles, a sixteenth of a mile shorter than the Derby and 5-16ths of a mile shorter than the Belmont.

CAREER SALES OPPORTUNITY

Would you like to earn $10,000 to $25,000 a year (and more) as a salesman? You can do it here in your own hometown. No overnight travel is required. We offer a comprehensive three year training program. You will receive excellent fringe benefits. There is an opportunity for rapid advancement.

Of the 20 individuals in sales positions in our various Ohio offices for two or more years, 8 earn in excess of $25,000 a year and 9 others earn between $10,000 and $25,000 a year. In recent years our top salespersons and their spouses have qualified for all expenses paid meetings in Caracas, Venezuela; Honolulu, Hawaii; the Costa del Sol, Spain; Rome, Italy; and Acapulco, Mexico.

We pay a starting income of up to $1,000 a month. A bonus plan makes it possible to earn in excess of $18,000 in your first year and in excess of $25,000 in the second year. We can prove this has been done. After the initial three year training period, our men and women are self-employed and completely independent.

A sales background and a college degree are desirable, but certainly not essential. Twelve of our salespersons are college graduates of whom 6 have Master's degrees. Others are high school graduates. We have successful individuals under 30 years of age. Other successful persons in our organization are grandparents.

We have no particular requirements — we are looking for honest, hard-working men and women who meet people well and who will work very hard and follow our proved sales system exactly.

Take five minutes to investigate this challenging and rewarding career with a 65-year-old organization. Call our central office in Columbus (614) 224-1291 on Friday, May 16, between 4:00 and 6:00 p.m. and on Saturday morning, May 17, between 9:00 and 12:00 and ask for Mr. Richard Tice or Mr. John Offenbreg.

The WEEDERS GUIDE

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

(This is the first of two columns dealing with community gardens.)

How many American homes had some kind of vegetable garden in 1974? If you had land available, would you have a garden?

The answer to the first question, based on a survey, indicated 47 per cent, and their main motive to do-it-themselves was to save money in the face of inflation and other economic factors.

The answer to the second question comes in information that the number of households that grew at least some of their own vegetables has increased by 8 per cent, or eight million, in the last three years.

Gardens for All Inc., a non-profit organization with headquarters in Norwalk, Conn., figures $10-worth of seed can produce $290-worth of fresh vegetables.

So community gardening supplies the answer to people gardening — on individual plots of land they don't own.

How do you get the land? How do you organize a community garden, complete with sponsoring group; get the gardeners and project coordinators, enlist "resource" organizations for support and expertise?

Gardens for All has lots of helpful answers. Remember, the community garden concept is pretty old. It began in Colonial times and was very important during World War II as the Victory Garden.

There are many community gardens, in various locales, under many types of sponsorship and for a number of reasons.

CHURCHES: They sponsor many community gardens, on or off church premises. They furnish a means for parishioners to save money, provide food for needy members of the parish or senior citizens, or earn funds for the parish. Garden plots may be rented out for a nominal fee.

PRIVATE COMPANIES: Many are making unused land available to employees, retirees and nearby residents. You could consider it a fringe benefit.

PUBLIC LAND: City parks and recreation departments often help get a community garden organized. Or a county agent or cooperative extension service will help.

PUBLIC HOUSING DEVELOPMENTS: Productive community gardens often spring up there, helping to promote good tenant relations, easing tensions.

NEIGHBORHOOD CITIZEN ACTION: They have organized many gardens on inner-city lots, promoting community relations in neighborhoods of mixed racial and ethnic backgrounds. This also improves the area's appearance.

SCHOOL AND UNIVERSITY GROUNDS: These are good spots, as are areas around museums and hospitals and other public buildings.

FOR PROFIT: Some farmers, nurseries and other institutions with spare land have profit-making ventures. They provide the land, prepare the lots, then rent them for a nominal fee.

The survey indicated that 46 per cent of the home gardeners said they did it to save money. Other reasons were: to get better tasting food, for the pleasure, for recreation, exercise and relaxation.

Remember, you may can, freeze and preserve your harvest and enjoy it practically all year.

GIRLS WANTED PRIME TIME
CUPERTINO, Calif. (AP) — Four women physical education teachers accused Cupertino High School officials of sex discrimination. The instructors had complained for weeks that the boys' basketball team was getting use of the gym floor during the prime time of 2-5 p.m.

The Fremont Education Assn. led the fight and won. Now, under a new ruling, the girls will get the prime time while the school's undefeated boys' basketball squad will have to work out at a later time.

The women have conceded, however, that they are willing to make special arrangements for the gym if the boys' team gets into the area championships and requires more practice time.

Two residents injured in bizarre accidents

A Washington C. H. woman was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital for surgery at 8:20 p.m. Thursday, when an employee of Weegie's Town Tavern, Court Street, pointed out her ankle was bleeding.

Washington C. H. police reported Bertha M. Wood, 61, of 613 E. Elm St., had felt her ankle give way when she got off a bar stool to sit in a chair at the tavern and it turned out she had suffered a compound fracture. She is presently listed in "fair" condition at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

City police also reported the injury of a city man in a freak accident at the

B&O Railroad crossing on Court Street, a breaking and entering at Carnegie Library, an attempted larceny from an auto parked at Buckeye Mart and the recovery of a stolen 10-speed bicycle. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported a dog bite.

John E. Mongold, 28, of 1328 Pearl St., suffered abrasions and laceration of both legs at 10:07 a.m. Friday when a grinding wheel, used to grind the edges of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks, exploded, causing several pieces to strike Mongold's legs. He was treated and released at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

Carnegie Public Library, 127 S. North St., was burglarized and $75 stolen sometime between 8 p.m. Wednesday and 7 a.m. Thursday. No forced signs of entry were detected by police, but investigation is continuing. A drawer which was ransacked in the burglary has been sent to the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation for fingerprints.

An attempt to break into an auto belonging to Katherine J. Young, 715 Willard St., was made Thursday afternoon, while the vehicle was parked in the Buckeye Mart parking lot, Columbus Avenue. Police stated Ms. Young was away from her car a matter of minutes and found screwdriver pry marks on the driver's door and window frame. A tape deck and tapes, clearly visible in the car, are believed to have been the target of the larceny attempt.

A 10-speed bicycle belonging to Vincent DeSanta, 918½ Maple St., was recovered hidden in bushes at the rear of the South Side Church, 921 S. Fayette St., by police, after it had been stolen around 8:40 p.m. Wednesday.

Anthony Mason, 4, of Mount Sterling, was bitten on the left forearm by a dog at his residence, at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. The boy was treated and released at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

Firemen called twice Thursday

A short in the French fry fryer resulted in a grease fire at Eat-N-Time restaurant, Dayton Avenue, at 9:05 p.m. Thursday. Washington C. H. firemen were summoned to the restaurant, owned by Mike Helfrich and occupied by Dan Justice, an employe, and put out the blaze with five pounds of carbon dioxide chemicals. They reported the damage confined to the heating element of the frying unit. Firemen had just returned from answering an "open burning" complaint at the Russell Pollard residence at 1335 Washington Ave. Pollard was informed of the city burning ordinance and asked to put out his trash fire, which he did.

O'Neill to receive Columbus award

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — C. William O'Neill, chief justice of the Supreme Court, will receive the 1975 Christopher Columbus Award from the Columbus Day USA Association.

O'Neill receives the award because he "has displayed courage and dedication in his contributions to his fellowman for the betterment of his community and country," the association said.

City resident found guilty of leaving accident scene

A city resident was fined a total of $150 Thursday in Washington C. H. Municipal Court during a court trial on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and reckless operation.

Jackie N. Garrison, 31, of 903 Gregg St., pleaded innocent to both charges, filed by Washington C.H. Police Sgt. Luther Anderson Feb. 5, and was represented by attorney Robert L. Simpson.

Judge Reed M. Winegardner found Garrison guilty of both charges and issued a $100 fine for leaving the scene of an accident and an additional $50 on the reckless operation charge.

By County Board of Visitors

Children's Home defects reported

The Fayette County Board of Visitors has issued its first annual report and recommendations following inspections of the Washington C.H. city jail, the Fayette County jail and the Fayette County Children's Home.

The board, composed of three Republicans and three Democrats from Fayette County, was established locally by Fayette County Probate Judge Rollo M. Marchant for the purpose of reviewing the condition and management of all charitable or correctional institutions supported by county or municipal taxation or which are under the county or city control.

In the annual report filed May 9, the board stated the Washington C.H. city jail facilities were in "excellent condition" while recommending several changes at the Fayette County jail and the Children's Home.

The report was based on one visitation to each jail and two inspections of the Fayette County Children's Home, one meeting with Judge Marchant and a session with the Fayette County Board of Commissioners.

Although the board found the county jail to be in satisfactory condition overall, the report recommended installation of an intercommunications system on the second floor cell area and a ventilating fan for the jail area.

Recommendations for repairs and changes at the Fayette County Children's Home, located on Ohio 38-NE, were extensive.

The report listed numerous inefficiencies found at the Home including: inadequate and antiquated wiring, poor lighting in the study area, lack of electrical outlets, flooring needed in the dining area, lack of privacy in the restrooms, lack of restroom facilities on the second floor of the girl's sleeping area and a need for a two-way communications system between the cottages and the house parents' living area.

The board added that the house parents and cottage mothers appeared to be "qualified and competent personnel," the kitchen and living areas were clean and the food was "quite adequate and well prepared."

The report stated the board met with the Fayette County Board of Commissioners in February to recommend the needed improvements at the Home, advised them of a need for a full time maintenance employee and a need for

Cincy teachers ratify contract

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Teachers Association have ratified a new wage pact calling for a 5.5 per cent wage increase plus increased benefits.

President Harriet Russell called the pact the "best possible" contract the CTA could get in view of the school system's financial condition.

The contract raises beginning salaries from $178 to $182.67 and lump sums of $100 to $300 for teachers in various categories of experience and education.

The county commissioners have entered contracts for new flooring in the kitchen areas and electrical repairs at the Children's Home since the meeting with the Board of County Visitors in February.
